Indiana Business Owner Named 2010 Pro to Know By National Publication

Top Business Magazine Names Indianapolis President as Leading Supply & Demand Chain Professional

INDIANAPOLIS (Feb. 24, 2010) -- In acknowledgement of her demonstration of superb leadership during harsh economic conditions, Cathy Langham, president of Indianapolis-based Langham Logistics Inc., has been named one of 2010's "Pros to Know" by Supply & Demand Chain Executive magazine. Langham was named by the magazine as a "Provider Pro to Know."

The Provider Pros to Know is a listing of individuals from a software firm or service provider, consultancy, or analyst or research firm who have personally helped clients address the challenges of the recession and prepare for the recovery ahead. This year, the magazine has chosen 130 individual Provider Pros to Know.

"I am delighted to be recognized by the Supply & Demand Chain Executive magazine editorial staff and advisory board as a Pro to Know," said Cathy Langham. "This listing is a thrill for not only me personally, but the Langham Logistics team as well. The Langham team, and our systems and processes are the reason we are able to delight our customers."

Langham started her career as a two-time franchise owner in the transportation industry. She founded Langham with her sister Margaret and their brother John, both of whom are still actively involved in the organization. Langham's third-party logistics company, now 21 years old, has grown its client base internationally and includes many Fortune 500 companies.

"This year's Provider Pros to Know have shown themselves to be thought-leaders in the Supply Chain industry," said Andrew K. Reese, editor of Supply & Demand Chain Executive. "Highlighting the learnings that the Provider Pros to Know have taken out of the Great Recession provides our readers with a wealth of best practices that they can apply in their own supply chains, as well as insights into how leading organizations are positioning themselves for competitive advantage in the Great Recovery ahead."

Supply & Demand Chain Executive, which has created three separate sets of criteria for the Practitioner, Practitioner Team and the Provider Pros to Know, issued a call for Pros to Know nominations in November 2009. Beginning in January, the magazine's editorial selection committee culled through more than 400 submissions to find the applicants that best fit the criteria.

The full listing of the 2010 Pros to Know will be available in the February/March 2010 issue of Supply & Demand Chain Executive magazine and e-book beginning in the third week of March and on the Supply & Demand Chain Executive Web site at SDCExec.com/2010.
